I want to make a official call and ask the other person whether he is free or not at that particular time. I think asking, "Are you free now?" does't sound formal. So, are there any alternatives ...

This guide will walk you through everything there is to know as well as how to get solar panels for free.

Looking to have solar panels installed on your home for free? Learn how federal, state, and local incentives can pay for all or most of the installation cost.

There is no such thing as free solar panels, and there is no such thing as a no-cost solar program. If you're hearing about "free" or "no-cost solar programs," you're likely being fed a cheap ...

My company gives out free promotional items with the company name on it. Is this stuff called company swag or schwag? It seems that both come up as common usages--Google searching indicates that the

There's no such thing as free solar panels or free government solar programs. Most "free" offers are actually leases, power purchase agreements, loans or scams.

"Free solar panels" aren't free; typically, these programs refer to solar leases or PPAs. The federal government does not provide free solar panels, but many states and utilities offer ...

For example, imagine some food company decides to make their fruits permanently free. Online, you can "order" them (for free), but in person, what do you do? What would be the ...

What is the opposite of free as in "free of charge" (when we speak about prices)? We can add not for negation, but I am looking for a single word.

Free installation of solar panels

In the context such as "free press", it means libre from censorship, "gluten-free" means libre from gluten and so on. Then there is "free stuff", why is the same word used?

I don't think there's any difference in meaning, although "free of charges" is much less common than "free of charge". Regarding your second question about context: given that English ...
