Handle All of This For You
What to expect
Just like a lease, a Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) constitutes third-party ownership. The solar panels on your roof are owned by the PPA provider, not you. But instead of paying for the system, you pay a monthly fee for the energy it produces. Since those contracts usually cover a 25-year period, yo...
What to watch out for
The pros and cons of a PPA are very similar to a lease agreement. One thing you should especially look out for in a PPA is that the amount of energy the system produces actually meets your needs. The contract will typically require you to buy all the energy the system generates, whether you can use it o...
